

The Sea Otter Who Could

By: Erica & Faith

There once was a baby sea otter who lived with his family in the Pacific Ocean.
He was a bubbly,
silly, weird sea
otter.

One day Frank and his family were enjoying diner when.....

a Tsunami washed up on shore Frank's mom tried to grab him but the harsh force of the water threw him far away.
Now poor Frank is alone with no food or safety.

When the Tsunami stopped Frank tried to find his way home when he got caught in trash red bags, red cups, a grey bag and more.

“Help!” Frank shouted over and over again. Then all of a sudden, a beautiful, blue dolphin handed him a shiny, pink pearl. “You now have three wishes.” the dolphin said and with a poof of bubbles, the dolphin was gone.

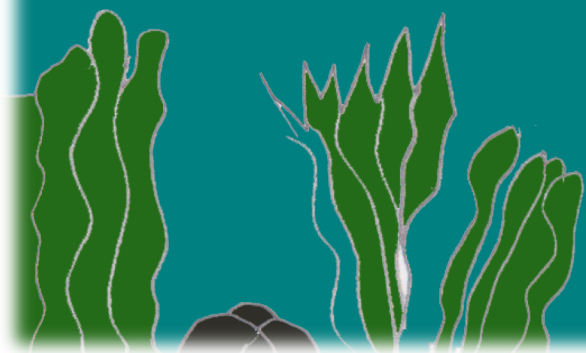

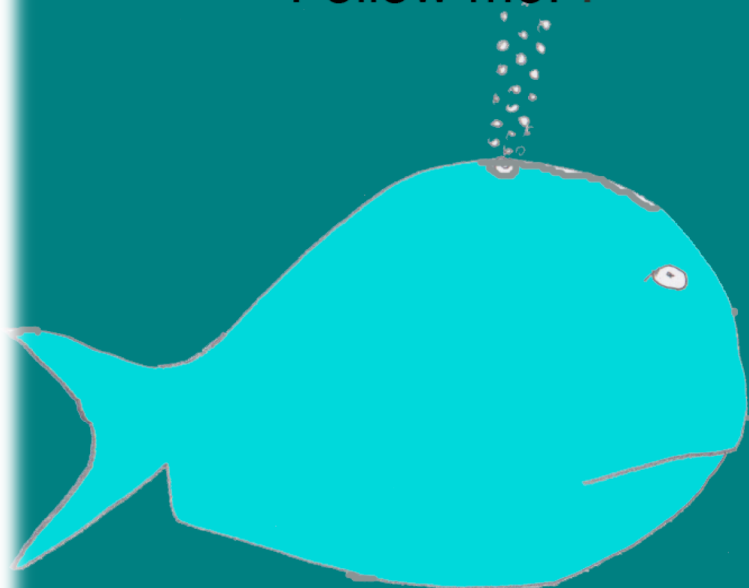

Then Frank wished to get out of the trash, and with a poof of blue bubbles he was released. He couldn't believe it worked.

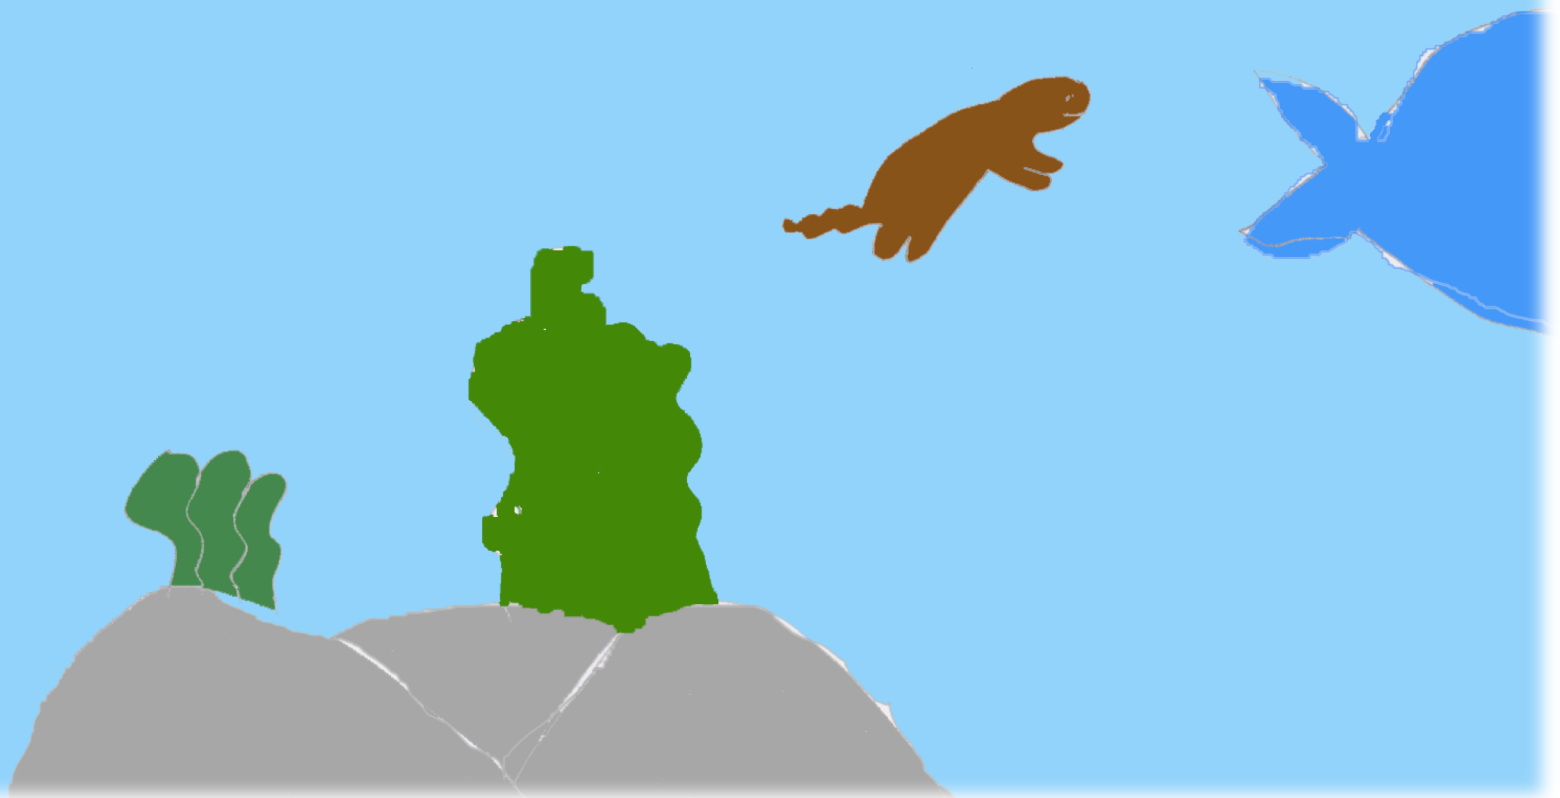

Frank finally found food. He went to pick up the star fish when a man fished it up before Frank could reach it. And not only that, the oil from the boat made him freezing cold!

Then, he wished to find his way home. All of a sudden a big blue chubby whale popped out of nowhere and said "Follow me!"

Frank was not sure if he should go with the whale or not, but he just followed him anyway. Then with great surprise, the whale led Frank home safely.

When Frank was finally home safe, he used his final wish to keep all trash and oil out of the ocean.

What will you do to help the Sea Otters?

Good Side

Which one would you want?

Bad Side

